Learning Took Many Directions in '79

A new principal, a few new teachers, and a new time schedule greeted students when they arrived in late August. A longer lunch hour also meant more problems and soon students were restricted to the cafeteria or the gym.

Thirty-one students chose 4-County to further their learning, and some of those, not necessarily by choice, faced the daily ride on the bus.

Teachers attempted to vary the daily routine through the use of films, filmstrips, speakers and field trips.

Fog days and snow days weren't as common as in past years and exams were scheduled one day early as a result.

The day for introducing new courses for the next year before scheduling was dropped this year and "skip" day was definitely discouraged.

SCHOOL DAZE

1. Junior high girls learn to sew. 2. Bev Griggs works in cosmetology at 4-County. 3. Gary Durham, Randy Cogswell and Al Geiser are hard at work in vo-ag. 4. Rae Leidy and Tresa Babcock get extra help from Terry Fox. 5. Karen Keck plays "hooky" in the sickroom. 6. Tammy Neubig practices on the "real thing" in child care. 7. Sophomores in industrial arts work on a group project. 11. Chuck Swartz is busy at work in his vocational school lab. 12. Susan Keil practices giving body permanents. 13. Don Broadwater gets some on the job training.

Routine Broken by Assemblies

All was not study and routine in '79. With the movement into the gym during the lunch hour came such events as the arm wrestling contest.

Time out from class was also given on picture day when from 8 a.m. until 2:45 p.m. over a hundred individual and group pictures were taken — some more serious than others.

The winter sports season brought more time out of class as the cheerleaders kept trying to outdo themselves with interesting stunts — including a banana eating contest and a pie-in-the-face for principal, Marv Neubig. One event was not planned by the cheerleaders, as loyal fans (mothers) invaded the halls of NC dressed to show their spirit the week of the regional tournaments.

For the first time in years part of cheerleader tryouts also were done in an assembly.

PALS Day was also a change from the routine and students who could get a parent to take their place stayed home from school.

Field trips included such places as Cedar Point for the band members.

4-County seniors who were on co-op programs also got away from the routine at least half a day.

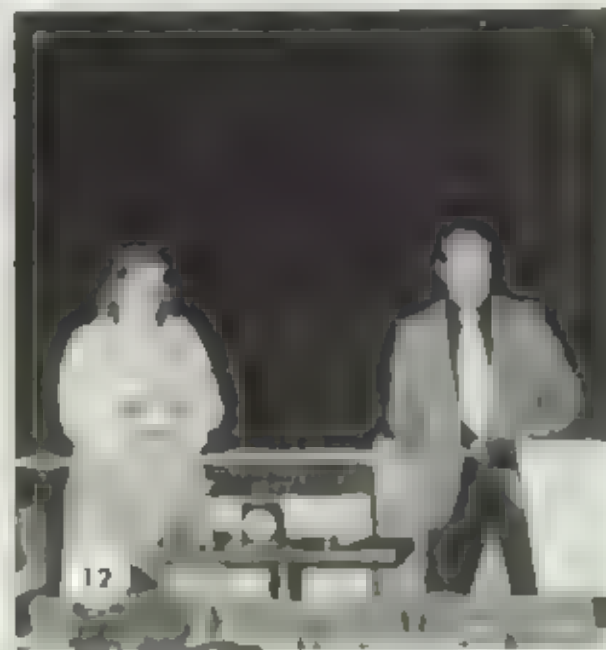

1. Yearbook staff members get to "relive" recess when there's time out from class for picture day. 2. NC mothers showed support for the basketball team by invading classrooms before a tournament game. 3. Cheryl Huffman finds time for research outside of class time. 4. Jane Hall's child care class watches a filmstrip. 5. Team members cheer Danny Over on in the activities of a pep session. 6. Tammy Sickmiller takes a break from classes at the piano. 7. Parents mix with kids during a PALS day class. 8. Arm wrestling lives up the lunchtime break from classes. 9. Early morning breakfast starts the day off for several athletes. 10. Teresa Brown gets a real roar from the student body with a pie for principal, Mary Neubig, at a pep session. 11. "Stuff Em" day brought out Laura Gearhart's favorite bunny as she spends lunchtime with Todd Martin. 12. Lynn Parker eats lunch on a rare occasion at 4-County. 13. Mary Rivas works with Kunkle elementary students for her class at 4-County.

1. Jill Deetz presents Teresa Brown a bouquet of roses from the girls track team as "good luck" in the state meet. 2. Al Henry receives the Gambor Award from athletic director, Bob Sauder. 3. Tammy Sickmiller gets her "Outstanding Senior" Award. 4. Al Henry returns to his seat with his "Outstanding Senior" Award. 5. Barb Boetz receives the Panhellenic Award from Barb King. 6. Shirley Penner, president of the NCEA, presents the teachers' scholarship to Chris Trausch. 7.

Steve Ely is awarded his Lions Club scholarship. 8. New members of Honor Society get their "keys" and candles. 9. Frances Crow gets special recognition for 27 years of service to N. 10. Mary Hohenberger discusses Defiance College and basketball at the Sports Banquet. 11. Darlene Gunn accepts Jeff's Kustom Fit scholarship. 12. Ann Burkard receives a Community scholarship. 13. Bob Sauder presents Susan Grimm with a savings Bond from the Masons.

Scholarships Top Awards

the spring

Spring brought recognition in at least three ways with banquets and also with an awards program

Tapping for Honor Society took place at the Honors Banquet where 6 sophomores were named to this group. Included in the recognition were teachers who had served in multiples of fives and special recognition to Mrs. Frances Crow who is retiring this year.

An evening of food and awards was also scheduled by the FFA and FHA in Many club and academic awards were given at the Awards Program, held in the evening this year instead of during the school day.

Top honors in sports were given at the Athletic Banquet. Steve Ely was named for the Chamber Award; Al Henry, the Gambol Award; and Teresa Brown and Todd Martin, the WBNO Awards.

SCHOOLS OUT

1. Ann Burkard, Julie Link and Bobbi Wilson plan wresling activities. 2. JV girls compete in an after-school contest. 3. Scott Semer, Kevin Aschman and Doug Nearing build an altar for the prom. 4. Cheerleaders award prizes at the library clinic. 5. Cross country team members walk the course before a meet. 6. Junior girls pass the ball in a JV volleyball game. 7. Ted Frame and

Penny Connin walk out to the track. 8. Cora Bannan, Joe Cov. and Chris Trausch pose for the yearbook. 9. Cheryl Hufman and Jan Swartz have some laughs while leaving school. 10. Junior girls add glamor to the prom staircase. 11. Scott Semer hypes during rehearsal for the school play. 12. Sue Orcutt, Laurie Messner and Laura Geachart relax at the Napoleon Holiday Inn during tournament time. 13. Russ Seer and Todd Martin exchange comments before a baseball game. 14. Bob McComan and Chuck Mason check track conditions before a meet. 15. Paul Kurtz poses for other cameraman Scott Edmister in a yearbook after-school work session.

Golf, C.C. and Basketball Take After School Efforts

After school hours in the fall brought out the runners and the golfers, and in the winter, the "roundballers"

The golf team had another good year with a record of 20-12, and 3rd place finishes in both the Fayette Invitational and the BBC Tournament. Mike Clark was named most improved and Doug Nearing, who also made the BBC All Tournament Team, received the Eagle Award

Cross country had a disappointing 0 and 8 season, and as in past years ran with only a few team members. Though several started the season, only 2 girls stuck it out

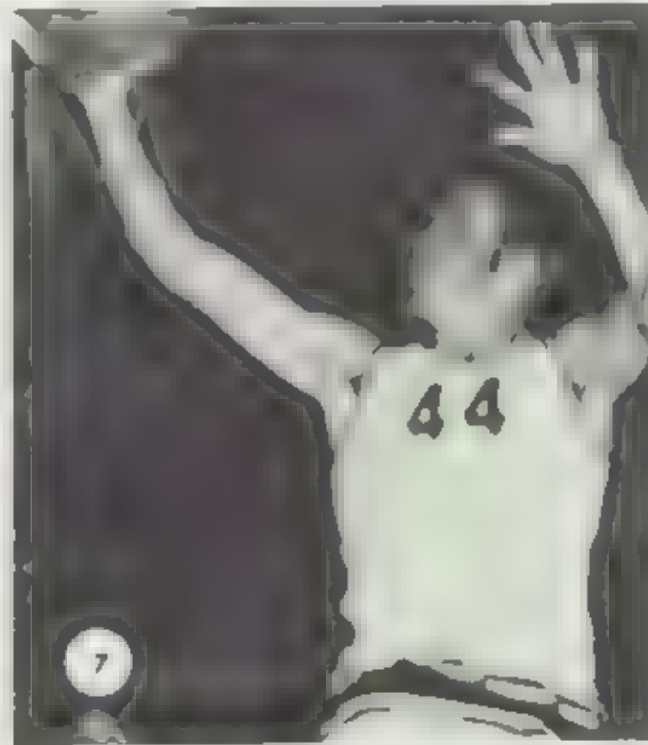

Junior high and freshman basketball occupied after school hours in the winter. The seventh grade had it's ups and downs and worked on basics. Eighth graders fought to several close games showing only 4 wins but losing 5 games by a total of 7 points. Freshmen were riddled with injuries but still battled to a 5 win and 9 loss record. All the teams show potential for the future

1. Bob Walz takes aim 2. Brad Keough watches as Diane Eckley competes in cross country. 3. Lynn Parker gets a good start. 4. NC works for the tip in a close contest. 5. Tracy Downing and Sharon Hawk, just what we need for the freshman team. 6. Scott Ely and Monte McKelvey away the rebound. 7. Monte puts another one up. 8. Scott shoots for two as the cheerleaders anticipate the points. 9. Roy Hylander attacks the ball. 10. Jeff Gunn smiles after a nice shot. 11. Stretching exercises—once before each meet. 12. Al Henry tries to get to the green. 13. Team members await the outcome of a free throw.

Track and Baseball Occupy Springtime

The efforts of Teresa Brown were the highlight of the spring after-school sports events. Teresa worked on her skills to the point of passing up the conflicting senior trip to become eligible for the state track meet, where she placed 2nd in the discus. A group of fans painted windows in town to wish her luck in her efforts.

Second place in the Fayette metric relays and 3rd in the BBC were earned by the entire girls team.

Al Henry was the "star" for the boys team, having established or broken four school records. For a time, Scott Ely also had a record, but it was later broken by Al.

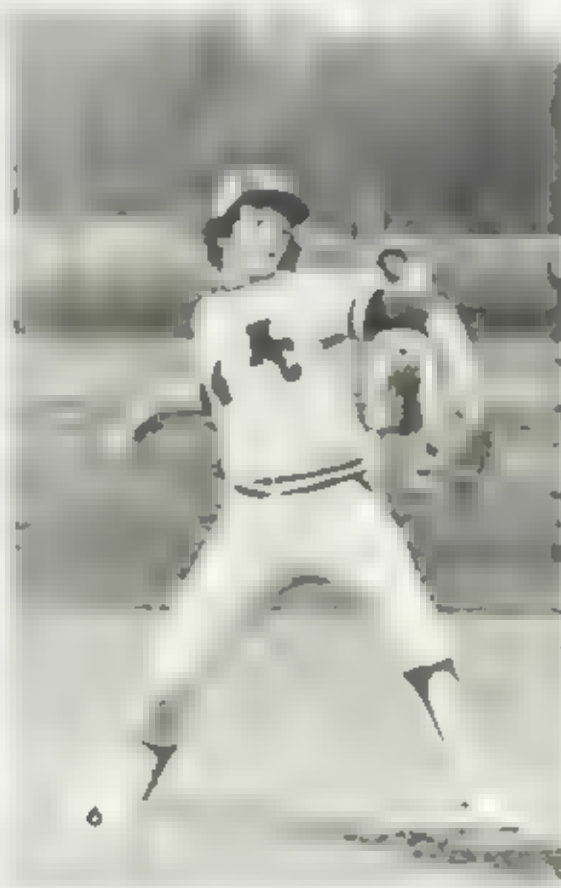

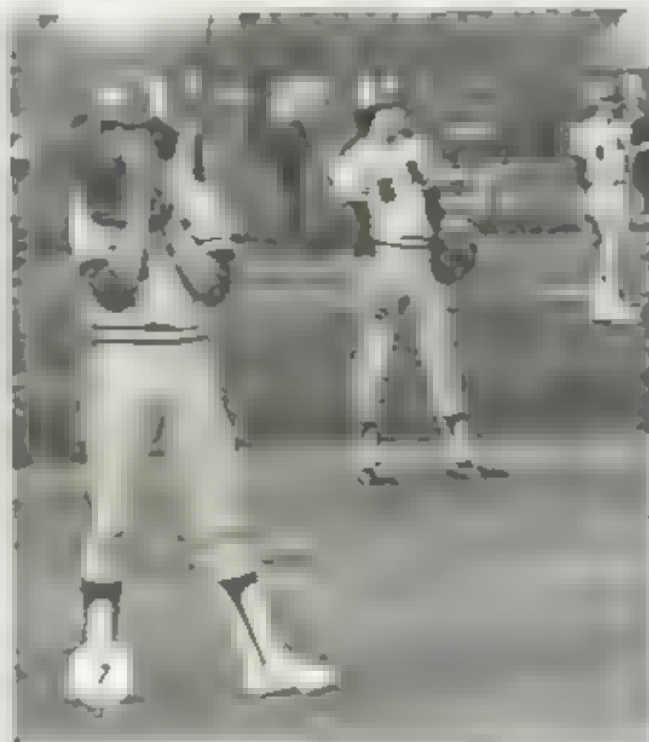

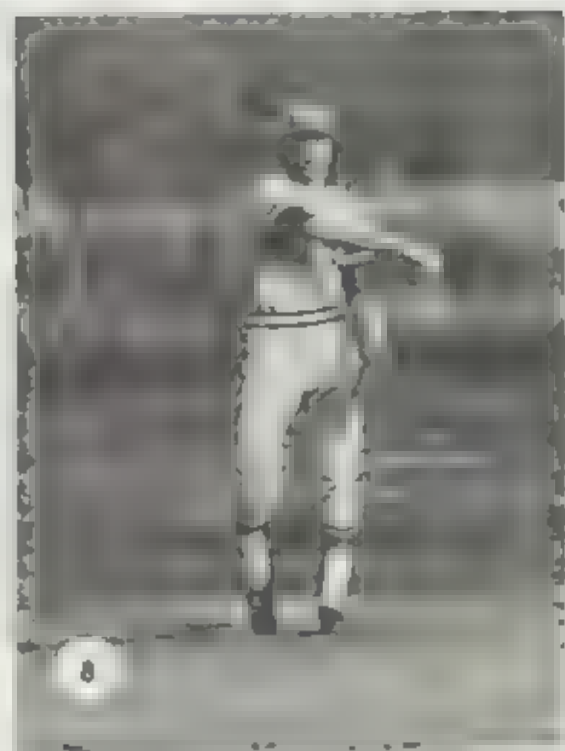

Baseball fielded both a JV and a Varsity team, and the weather delayed playing of many of the JV games. This team showed much promise. The varsity, however, had a disappointing year, but managed some very exciting play at times. The Eagle award was won by Lynn Parker in baseball and Al and Teresa won them for track.

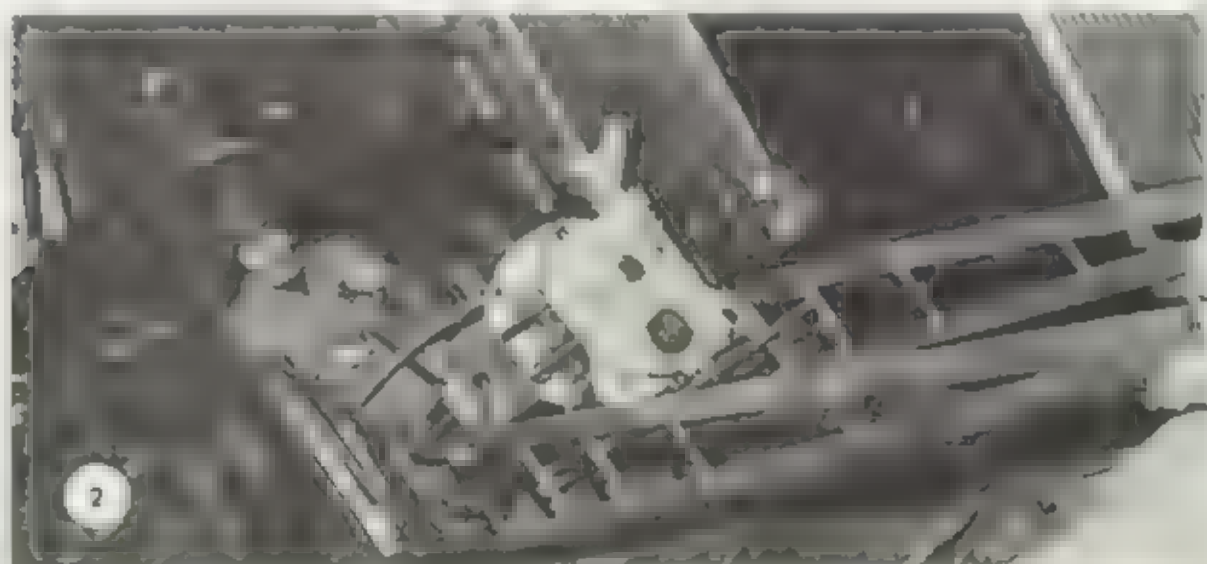

1. Alicia Aschliman gets off to a quick start. 2. Eagle - Back - pole vaults over the bar. 3. Ted Ingram releases the discus with determination. 4. John Kisten rates back for the cut at first. 5. Ken Mocherman catches one in the dirt. 6. Brook Bandeen tries for the one. 7. Fielders wait the next action. 8. Steve Ely tosses the ball in warmup. 9. Sharon Houk clears the high jump. 10. Teresa Brown smiles in triumph after winning 2nd place in the discus at State. 11. Scott Ely leads the Eagles across the line. 12. Al Henry sets a pace. 13. Todd Martin is quick on the recovery of a ground ball.

1. Cheerleaders spend after school hours painting and putting up spirit signs. 2. Scott Eidenier shows that some NC students have hobbies outside of school activities. 3. After school is practice time for a member of the golf team. 4. Cross Country team members found it quicker to ride than to walk the course before running it. 5. Scott Semer and Jerry Burt practice their roles in the school play. 7. Jerry and Connie Burt load up all her "Stuff 'Em" Day animals before heading out the door. 8. Varsity cheerleaders tour town "firing up" spirit for tournaments. 9. Robin Spencer spends after school time as president of student council planning the homecoming. 10. Deanne Smith and Rae Leidy discuss track statistics. 11. Working on cars is a common activity for Kerry Mapes after school. 12. Tammy Neubig, Donna Robison and Sue Orcutt work on the hundreds of stars and other decorations for the prom. 13. Monica Lanus works on stacks of chorus music.

Is School Really Out at 2:47?

At 2:47 when the last bell rang not everyone could run out the door and head for home. Some stayed for play or music or sports practice, some stayed for their 2:50 to 3:50 appointment in detention, and others even volunteered to help a teacher.

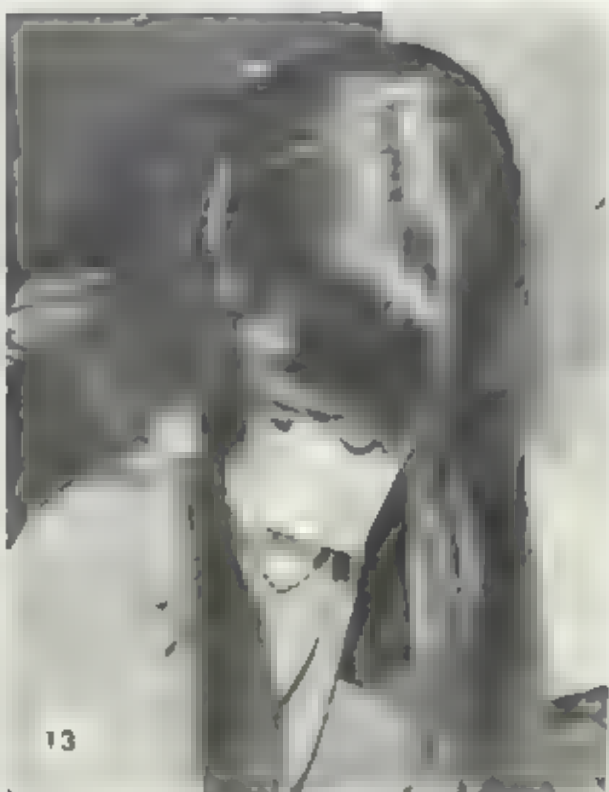

The first week of school it looked like no one would be leaving at 2:47. But changes were soon made and dismissal time was returned to that magic moment — just enough time to say good bye and make it on time to practice and save running those extra laps.

Much work got done in those after school hours. pep rallies were planned, prom decorations were chosen and made, and even the halls were strung with crepe paper and balloons to mark pep week — salute to the basketball team making it to regionals.

VC's girls sports seasons opened with volleyball and the girls finished second in the BBC with a 7-3 record. Overall, their season record was 10-7, including tournaments in which they defeated Edon in the first game and then lost to Stryker in the second game. The year was one of rebuilding and with several players returning next year, hopes are high for the future.

Named to the BBC All League teams were Rae Leidy to the first team, Sharon Over to the second team and Teresa Brown to the third team. Rae Leidy got the Eagle Award at the Fall Awards Program and Laura Gearhart got an award for Most Improved.

With only two returning letterwomen, Teresa Brown and Jill Deetz, the girls varsity basketball team also faced a rebuilding year. An expanded schedule included more games, so the young team should take much experience into next season. The varsity girls managed only 2 wins over the season and were forced to end the year in tournaments against the top seeded team, Edgerton. The reserve team, under first year coach Barb Uher, concentrated on basics, also looking ahead to the future.

Jill Deetz was named to the BBC second team. Volleyball and basketball for the girls will lose the skills of seniors Teresa Brown, Jill Deetz, Cheryl Gruber, Monica Lanier, Holly Pettit, Tammy Sickmiller and Chris Trausch.

Medicine Never Was So Funny

"Take Your Medicine" was this year's annual drama production. Taking place in a room of the Pioneer General Hospital, this three act comedy surrounded Henry K. Dobson (Jamie Grimm) who mistook Dr. Bill Jackson (Mike Harpster), the fiance of his daughter Angela (Laurie Messner) for a medical doctor instead of a college professor. The real trouble began when Mr. Dobson promised Angela and Dr. Jackson money for the first life he saved — and for $50,000 the humorous incidents never stopped after the regular hospital doctor had to leave town and "Dr. Jackson" was called on to handle the emergencies. Donna Robinson and Connie Spencer served as student directors and Darwin Krill as faculty advisor in this entertaining event on the evenings on November 10 and 11.

Wrestlers Finish 9-3; Three Are BBC Champs

Five NC wrestlers earned a trip to District competition as the grapplers closed out their 1978-79 season. In Sectionals, Jay Wiles at 175; Todd Keller, heavyweight; Ted Frame at 185; Todd Smadecki at 155; and Brad Keough at 145, placed in the top three to qualify to go on. Jay Wiles and Todd Keller were both Sectional Champions. Jay Wiles, Todd Keller, and Todd Smadecki also captured the BBC crown in their weight classes.

In District, Todd Smadecki, Jay Wiles, Ted Frame and Todd Keller had perfect no-loss dual season records.

As a team, the young but still experienced wrestlers finished 2nd in the BBC tournament and 8th out of 16 at the Findlay "A Classic". They finished the regular season of dual matches with a record of 9-3, for the school record for "best ever" season.

Building for the future, the junior high wrestling team also finished with a winning 6 and 4 record.

Spirit for the team was built by the wrestlettes, who changed their name and got a new advisor this year.

Prom Theme Shown in Stars

"Too Much Heaven" was the theme of the prom prepared by the class of '80. Dinner at Kunkle, with the theme carried out in the table decorations, was prepared under the direction of Mrs. Jean Semer, the junior class president's mother. Music at the dance was a tape presentation by Max Smith of radio station WHFD of Archbold. Following the dance, a movie (FM) was shown at the Bryan Lanes for those who cared to stay awake to try to find a plot in it and then the evening ended with bowling until 6:30 a.m.

Juniors selected Roy and Renee Hylander, Mike Clark and Alicia Aschli-man as the sophomores to help at the prom

1. Susie Orrutt discos in front of the "star" cast. 2. Deanna Poulton introduces the band's disco dance for music host, Max Smith. 3. Lynn and Karen Lamberson "boogie". 4. Bob and Gwen M. Kolvey and Gwen White and Mark Schmucker sit one out. 4. T. Fox joins the band for the disco number. 5. A slow dance gives the couples a breather. 6. Renee and Roy Hylander helped with the punch and pictures. 7. Lori and Chuck Douglass enjoy the music. 8. Several seniors got into the disco beat. 9. Slower music gave an opportunity to dance close. 10. "Too Much Heaven" meant for some too much slow music. 11. Probably the most popular music was the disco number. YMC A.

1 Everyone except Paul Kurtz, the photographer, got into this picture outside the hotel. 2 Several of the girls volunteered for roles in the show at Sea World. 3 Scott Eidenier found these Grand Prix cars hidden away at Disney World. 4 Diane Eckley spent some time chatting with one of the bus drivers. 5 A river cruise was on the schedule of some at Disney World. 6 Soaking up the sun while waiting for the bus was part of the fun. 7. Getting a good tan was on the minds of most of the class. 8. Lisa White relaxes after one of the stops. 9. A trip to Disney World wouldn't be complete without Mickey and the parade. 10. Robin Spencer and Gwen McKelvey got to dress up as characters at Sea World. 11. Scott Eidenier and Mark Kirkendall paused for a picture on Main Street in Disney World. 12. Lisa White gets ready to toss a tire at Sea World.

Sea World a Great Part of Senior Trip

For the first time in several years 31 seniors and three chaperones flew rather than rode a bus to Florida for the senior trip. After landing in Orlando, Florida they toured Cypress Gardens Friday afternoon, May 18.

Saturday it was off for a day at Disney World and Sunday it was time for soaking up the sun at Daytona Beach.

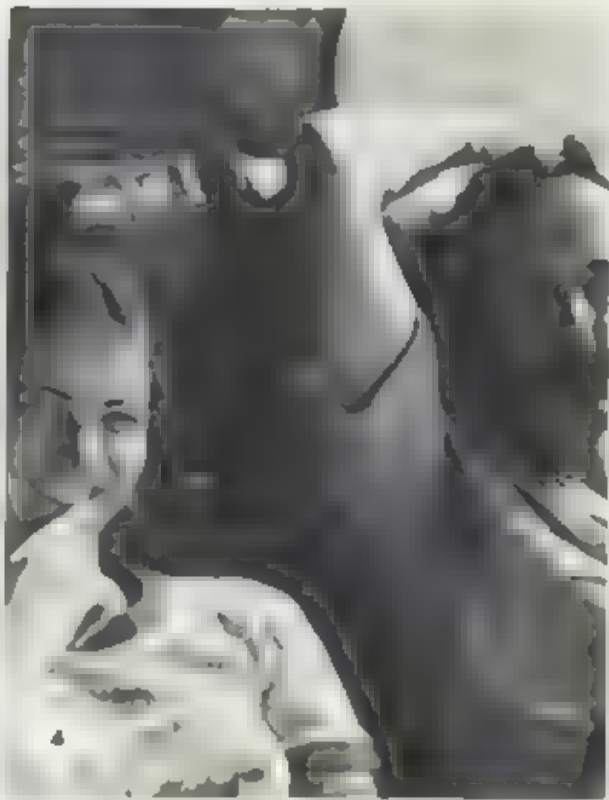

Trading Sea World for Busch Gardens seemed to be the right choice as there was a lot to see and do at Sea World on Monday. Even of the seniors even got into the act.

It was homeward bound as they left Orlando International Airport in the early evening and arrived back in Toledo at nearly 11 p.m.

Dely Travel Agency made the arrangements and the group stayed at the International Inn while in Florida.

57 Receive Diplomas

Following 3 days of rain and the ever-present threat of more rain, the graduation ceremonies for the Class of '79 came off without a hitch on Sunday, May 27.

Reverend David White, father of graduate Lisa White, gave the invocation. Darwin Krill, high school teacher and youth minister, presented the message and then senior honor students Barb Boetz and Susan Keil gave their speeches. Members of band and chorus performed with those groups for the last time and finally diplomas were given out to the 57 who had completed all the requirements.

1. Fifty seven seniors completed all the requirements for graduation. 2. Darwin Krill gives the baccalaureate message. 3. Honor Student Barb Boetz dedicates a poem of thanks to her parents. 4. Susan Keil, honor student who attended 4-county talks about the promise of the future. 5. Caps flew in the air as the class lined up for receiving good wishes. 6. ## Board, Administration & Community Work to Pass Levy Rahman Dyer moved up from high school principal to the "hot" spot of superintendent and was faced, with the board, with the first problem of getting the school levy passed. The final count in the November election showed 3 votes shy and so a second attempt had to be made in the spring. This time with a margin of 7, the tally showed success.

Replacing Mr. Dyer as high school principal was Marvin Neubig who came to N.C. from McComb. Attendance became one of the primary goals of the new principal and he also added a new element to the morning announcements with his daily jokes, which usually met with either dead silence or a chorus of "boos" from the student body.

Junior High and elementary principal Tom Balser undertook a textbook and course evaluation program with his teachers.

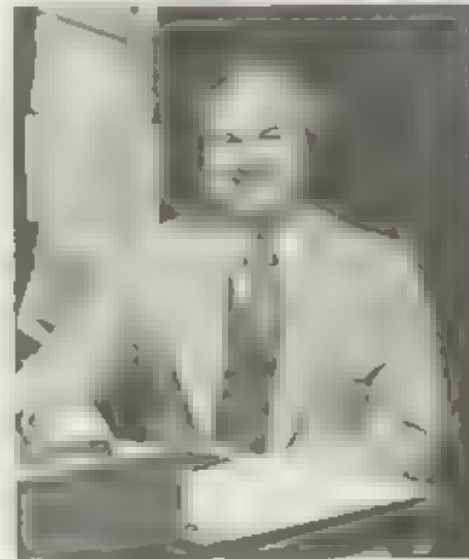

As usually the case, the school secretaries kept track of everyone and kept the school running smoothly. Phyllis Oyer left to join her former boss at the county office and was capably replaced by Sharon Steinke.

2 Added to Faculty; Staff Strengthened by Experience

The 1978-79 school year brought two more new faces to the North Central faculty. Miss Deanna Poulton was added to the musical part of the staff, and Mr. Jeff Switzer came into the picture as physical education teacher.

Although not a new member of the teaching staff, Miss Jane Hill took over the full time position in the Home Economics Department.

With a large amount of professional experience behind the teachers, the students had no doubts about starting the new school year.

The new year offered many opportunities in clubs, organizations, and athletics including some opportunities out of the ordinary. For instance, the time when the JV volleyball coach, Terry Fox, was thrown in the showers by his "grateful" team after a win in their last game of the season, or when Rob Sheldon ran the cross country course on a bet.

Frances Crow Leaves After 27 Years

The end of the year was a time of farewells and best wishes as Frances Crow resigned to close her 37-year professional career. She had actually served the North Central schools for 27 years and had instructed fourth, sixth and junior high students. A dinner was given in her honor.

The reins of the teachers association were handed over to president elect, Roberta Oxender as current president, Shirley Penner, also announced she would be leaving NC as she moved to California.

As in the past years, the junior high student council presented Kunkle teachers and staff members with flowers at the end of the year.

Special acknowledgements for staff members this year included Rob Sheldon being chosen District 7 Coach of the Year.

Staff Works Behind Scenes

Work behind the scenes by the school staff seems a never-ending task. From the bus drivers to the cooks to the maintenance crew this group at NC works to keep the wheels of education smoothly oiled.

Notwithstanding problems with individuals on the busses and getting past some of the fog which got thicker as the high school run was being made, the schedule for picking up and dropping a primarily bussed student body went smoothly for the year.

Even with the traditional complaints about food and prices in the cafeteria, the cooks managed nutritious and varied lunches and also provided special lunches for senior citizens and for the graduating seniors (served family style).

Office aides were a great help to teachers with playground duty, copying materials and even substituting in the classroom during teacher conferences.

Even as this book is getting its finishing touches the maintenance crew is busy during the summer polishing the surroundings.

Members of the Senior Class of '79, under the third year of leadership by Danny Oyer, class president, began a very successful year with their magazine sales. They went nearly $800 over their goal, with a total sales of $7,513.85. Tammy Sickmiller, Robin Spencer and Todd Martin were the top sellers.

Also as the year began, the government classes while studying how a bill becomes law, actually worked on four bills which they wrote and then voted on.

Six of the seniors had roles in the fall drama presentation, "Take Your Medicine".

Homecoming came next and Brenda Sumner was chosen by the student body as Queen. Tammy Sickmiller was senior attendant.

Beginning the year as heads of the various organizations were: Robin Spencer, president of Student Council; Dan Oyer, FFA; Tammy Sickmiller, Honor Society; and Susan Grimm, Library Club.

Mark Kirkendall, Ann Burkard, Chris Trausch, Jill Fitzenrider, Susan Grimm and Barb Lantz participated in solo and ensemble band contests.

Several seniors sang in an ensemble for the spring chorus concert and delighted the audience.

A several-years and several-pounds later skill by several of the senior basketball players was only one of the memorable acts of the variety show.

End-of-the-year awards brought special recognition to Tammy Sickmiller and Al Henry who were chosen as the Outstanding Seniors.

Several scholarships were also awarded to the seniors: Teresa Brown and Ann Burkard — N.C. Community Scholarships; Jeff Gunn — Custom Fit Scholarship; Steve Ely — Lions Club Scholarship; Chris Trausch — Teachers Association Scholarship; Tammy Sickmiller, Northwest Tech Scholarship; and Barb Boets — Williams County Panhellenic Scholarship and the Ohio Merits Scholarship.

In 4-County's awards program Todd Sniadecki received the Award of Distinction for Appliance and Mike Griggs for Carpentry.

The senior trip took seniors to Disney World and other sights in Florida and graduation was on the front lawn Sunday, May 27.

Juniors Prepare for Prom Work

Juniors were kept very busy this year with concessions, beginning with volleyball and finally concluding with baseball in the spring. They also sold Christmas cards for about a $500 profit which helped make up for the loss of candy sales at lunchtime. A point system was begun to keep track of how much of the class treasury at the end of the year would go into each junior's account toward the senior trip.

"Too Much Heaven" was chosen as the theme for the prom and it seemed to turn into "too much work" for the few who found themselves decorating for long hours.

Several members of the class attended 4-County and found out what a long ride it was on the bus every day.

Special recognition during the year went to Jerry Burt as "Best Actor"; Scott Semer, the choice for delegate to Boys' State; Donna Robinson and Susie Orcutt, delegates to Girls' State, with Deanne Smith and Corisa Bandeen as alternates; and Jim Dupire the champion on the chess tournament.

A final money making project for the year involved picking up of the chairs after graduation and as in past projects the money made was to be divided by the class members who participated.

Sophomores Excel in 2nd Year

Sophomores opened their year at NC with tests and a dance. The tests were the Ohio Survey tests taken by all sophomores in September and the dance, including a dance contest, was in October and used "Grease" as the theme. They toured 4-County in November.

This was also a year for honors for the sophomores. Mark Harpster and Carol St John both received local and district honors for their science fair projects and Mike, in state competition. Mike was also selected to represent NC at the Hugh O'Brien seminar. Six sophomores were inducted into National Honor Society: Carol St. John, Laura Gearhart, Laurie Messner, Jodi Taylor, Grant Gilcher and Roy Hylander.

A raffle for a side of beef ended the school year for the class of '81.

Frosh Tackle High School

Freshmen entered high school with new courses, new activities in which to participate and a new teacher for an advisor, Jeff Switzer. Finding time for class meetings posed a problem.

In the fall, Tracey Downing was chosen by her class to be their homecoming attendant. Later in the year several members of the class went to Defiance to see the movie "Romeo and Juliet". Ten of them also went on a field trip with the Spanish class to Toledo.

Year-end awards went to Robin Beck as "Most Promising Freshman" in FHA; and Kevin Lanius, Star Greenhand Award and the Scholarship Award in FFA.

The class money making project of a car wash the day of the prom got rained out.

Making it through the elementary grades and on into high school often takes a little more help than the individual classroom teacher, with all her normal duties and classes of 30 students, would allow her. That is when the specialists are called on.

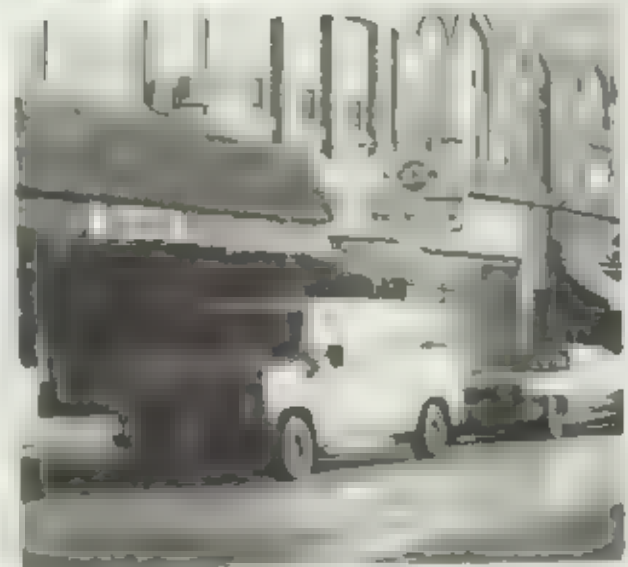

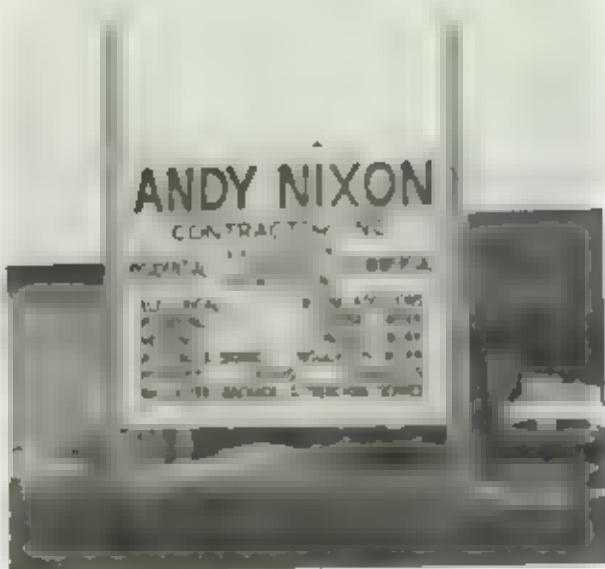

Mainstreaming was one of the new words for the 1978-79 school year as all the children were in the classroom with their regular grade level class mates and then perhaps went to a special education instructor for special classes, or to a speech therapist, or someone who was a specialist at overcoming learning difficulties or reading problems.

The school nurse also played a role in the daily lives of students, with testing, first aid, and other special help.

To the Class of '79:

This page of advertising presents an irresistible opportunity to offer more than the usual compliments and congratulations. We realize that graduation is a time when "good advice" comes to you from all directions so — we'll try to keep ours short.

(1) Contrary to what you may have heard — these are the best of times and the opportunities ahead of you are the greatest that ever existed. But like beauty, seeing those opportunities depends a lot on the eye (and the positive attitude) of the beholder.

(2) You don't necessarily need to travel to the ends of the world to discover your greatest possibilities.

The people of this community, the mayor, council and businesses have been, and continue, to work hard at bringing in new industry so that the young people do not need to leave the Pioneer area to find what they are looking for.

We wish you the best of luck in whatever you do — and may you have fun doing it.

Sincerely,

The People of Kustom Fit

YEARBOOK STAFF MEMBERS LEAD BUSY LIVES AS SHOWN ON THESE TWO PAGES: 1. Susan Grimm (senior editor) studies. 2. Connie Spencer (sports editor) flies high as a cheerleader. 3. Jose Coy (sports editor) changes her mind about doing the splits. 4. Scott Eidenier (photographer) hams it up for the camera. 5. Amy Kwader (ad. editor), in the school play, gets to be a nurse. 6. Corisa Banteen (assistant editor) and Jodi Taylor (ad. editor) cheer the varsity team to victory. 7. Corisa shows she can jump as well as cheer. 8. Paul Kurtz doesn't want to be outdone by fellow photographer, Scott. 9. Mike Harpster also has a role in the play. 10. Tracey Downing and Diane Bexten cheer for the freshmen. 11. Sharon Houk cheers for the same team. 12. Paul, Scott and Brad definitely look better out of costume. 13. Carl Habrick directs someone while taking pictures for Brockley Studios. 14. Susie Orcutt (classes editor) plays quite a character in the school play. 15. Georgeanne Vargo (advisor) sometimes doesn't look like she's ready to pull her hair out over the unfinished book. 16. Chris Trausch (editor-in-chief) found time to cheer as well as decorate Mr. Hue's house.
